ILCM's Crime Victim Relief Project is for all interested pro bono attorneys. No immigration experience is necessary.

As part of its Crime Victim Relief Project, ILCM trains and mentors attorneys to assist victims of serious crimes obtain immigration benefits under the Victims of Trafficking and Violence Protection Act (VTVPA). Under VTVPA, immigrants who have been the victim of a serious crime; endured substantial physical or emotional abuse as a result of that crime; and are willing to assist in the investigation or prosecution of the criminal activity can apply for a "U Visa," which provides immigration benefits to crime victims.

Nearly all of the crime victims seeking assistance under ILCM's project are women and children who have been victims of sexual assault and/or domestic violence. The special provisions under VTVPA encourage these victims to cooperate with law enforcement, and allow victims of abuse to gain the independence they need to break the cycle of violence and provide a safe future for their families.

As part of its Crime Victim Relief Project CLE, ILCM trains volunteer attorneys from all areas of law and levels of experience to assist immigrant crime victims. In addition to providing intensive training and instructional materials, ILCM also pairs volunteer attorneys with low-income clients in need and provides mentorship and resources throughout their case.
